Tom Guglielmo '71

Dr. Tom 'Gug' Guglielmo pledged Beta-Nu in the spring of 1971 and lived at 460 Hilltop for two and a half years. He graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1975 and graduated from the University of Louisville Dental School in 1979.

In 1980 Tom moved to Houston, Texas and was an associate dentist in a private dental practice for a year. It was during this year that he began a continuing education direction leading him to explore wellness focused health care treatment for patients.

In the early 1980's he served as executive director of the Holistic Dental Association and later moved to Lexington and was the dental director for the Holistic Health Center in Lexington, Kentucky. He established a dental staff for this primary care medical office in Lexington. They would develop wellness programs based on a multidiscipline approach and focus on diet, exercise and relaxation.

Tom was introduced to his future wife by a fraternity brother. He married Kathy and moved back to Houston. In the 1990's, he had two children and built a busy private dental practice. At the end of the 90's a horseback riding accident ended his career as a 'sit down and look in the mouth' dentist. He sold his practice and moved to the Woodlands, Texas.

After the ending of his dental clinical career he consulted for dental insurance companies and served on a dental board of directors for a dental insurance company.

Tom began another career in the mergers and acquisitions of dental offices. He opened a Houston office for McLerran and Associates and brought in a partner, developed the Houston market and became co-owner of McLerran's transition business for Houston and East Texas. He has helped hundreds of dentists transition in and out of dentistry for the past decade and a half. He is selling his half of the transition company at the end of 2019 and going on to his next project in life.

In the mid 1990's, Tom purchased fifty acres across the street from Natural Bridge State Park in Slade, Kentucky. This site is in the Daniel Boone National Forest. Just this past fall the local county repealed prohibition and Slade is continuing to grow as a tourist destination. He plans on developing this site focusing on hospitality, lodging and potentially a health spa.

“Dr. Thomas Anthony Guglielmo ‘71, Tom (aka) “Gug” is a brother that has kept many of the 1970’s Beta-Nu brothers in touch and close. If not for Tom’s dedication to keep us all connected, we would have missed out of over 30 years of close brotherhood.”

Kappa Sigma means a lot to Tom. Beta-Nu and Kappa Sigma gave him a core group of lifelong friends and mentors. His advice to undergraduates is, “look for mentors – some will be your current brothers. By mentor I mean somebody that you can call, and they will take your call and you can bounce ideas off them and just share experiences. Appreciate it now and keep the bonds.

HALL OF FAME INDUCTEE

Mark Joyce ‘74

Before joining Kappa Sigma or the University of Kentucky, Mark Joyce was a leader in Troop 30 of the largest boy scout group in Louisville. Mark served as an Assistant Scoutmaster and Chairman of the Boards Review. Through these positions, Mark was able to determine the importance of achieving his goals and understanding the lessons he’s learned.

Following his leadership path, Mark became an officer of Kappa Sigma. Through this process, Mark learned how to be a leader. He learned how to be patient, involved, and how to listen to others. He has found that these traits have really pressed him forward in life by teaching him how to interact with customers, vendors, and people with different opinions in business. Mark states, “The structure of a fraternity has many similarities of business and social settings that enabled me to go forward with confidence and earn the respect of others” (Joyce).

After Mark Joyce graduated, he got his first job advertising sales for the Sentinel News in Shelbyville, Kentucky. Later in his career, Mark then sold advertising for WZZX Radio, then transitioned to PriceWeber Marketing as an accountant executive. Mark then spent a short amount of time working at a car dealership. It wasn’t too long until Mark decided to start two lawn services, at different times, where his business was fueled by commercial and residential customers. Mark then began to work for Levy and Joyce Appraisals. After receiving assignments from the Family Court or estate attorneys, Mark would go and appraise the contents of people’s households. During this time, Mark owned and managed two rental properties. Later on in his career, Mark opened up his own liquor store called, Liquor World Old Henry.

During his time as a member of the Jaycees, Mark participated in programs that contributed back to the community. He became co-chair of the charity wine tasting event that attracted about 100 people. Mark then became chairman of the Stein Club. This club helped new members get involved early on. The organization grew from only a few members to several dozen.

Despite his many accomplishments, Mark became mayor of Brownsboro Village. This village contains about 185 households, causing a lot of responsibilities to be bestowed onto Mark. As mayor, Mark must make sure all services regarding waste management and road maintenance are met. Mark cooperates with contractors and the state government to make sure all government regulations are in order. Mark believes that through being in Kappa Sigma has developed his leadership skills, crediting it to all his career achievements.

HALL OF FAME INDUCTEE

Jay Jones '74

Brother John Paul (Jay) Jones II came to the University of Kentucky from London, Kentucky, and pledged at Beta-Nu in the fall of 1973. While attending the university Jay was involved in activities that included the Interfraternity Council; the Student Center Advisory Board; and membership in pre- law societies. Jay was privileged to be inducted into the honorary fraternity known as Lamp and Cross. He graduated in 1977 with a B.A. in Political Science. He attended the University of Kentucky Law School and graduated with a Juris Doctor in 1980.

Jay has served Beta-Nu in many capacities: Grand Master of Ceremonies, Grand Procurator, Pledge Trainer, and Grand Master in 1976-77. He also served on the Housing Corporation for several years. After graduating from law school Jay moved to Monticello, Kentucky, with his wife, Linda (Alpha Gamma Delta), where they have now lived for 37 years. Jay and Linda have two daughters: Shelby, a UK graduate and member of Alpha Gamma Delta; and Lindsey, a graduate of Northern Kentucky University. Since 1980, in addition to practicing law Jay has also served as Wayne County Attorney (1990 to 1998) and he is currently serving as Master Commissioner of the Wayne Circuit Court and Trial Commissioner of the Wayne District Court. He is active in the Monticello Kiwanis Club and First Christian Church.

Jay considers his experiences in Beta-Nu to be invaluable to him, both personally and professionally. He is grateful for the many friends he has across the United States as a result of his association with Beta-Nu. Jay's advice to undergraduates is to "Appreciate your time in college," and "Make sure to keep in touch with your brothers after your college term because one of the most valuable and long-lasting benefits of your Kappa Sigma experience will be having close friends across Kentucky and all over the world."

Jay's experience at Kappa Sigma has given him a sense of belonging in this world in knowing there are thousands of brothers with whom he has something meaningful in common. That sense of belonging is important to his life personally, professionally, spiritually, and in his family life. His Beta-Nu Chapter experience and what it means to him is very personal. Jay was fortunate enough to have developed and kept close and significant friendships. He thanks all "Beta-Nuers," especially those who were at Beta-Nu when he was in the 1970s.

HALL OF FAME INDUCTEE

Joe Bowling '90

Brother Bowling graduated Bardstown High School in the spring on 1989 and pledged Beta-Nu of Kappa Sigma that fall, along with his cousin from Madisonville, Matt Bowling. They joined Matt's brothers, Mike and Dan, and were soon joined by a fifth cousin, Rob. This motley crew soon became known as "the Five Friends & Bowlings". Such was the love for the Bowlings that screams of "no more %$#@# Bowlings" often rang through the halls of 460 Hilltop Avenue with affection. We showed our appreciation (and proved a point) by electing my sister, Kate, as the chapter sweetheart in 1992 and by recruiting Rob's younger brother, Matthew, in 1999. Both sisters, Kate and Sarah, were Chi Omegas at UK with Mike's future wife, Nicole Segneri. For Brother Bowling, Beta Nu is truly a family affair.

During his undergraduate years, Joe lived in the Lodge, room 204, with pledge brothers "Bourbon" Bill Erwin, Brian Masters, and Craig "Fred" Marcum, who remain dear friends today. He served as Grand Scribe and Social Chairman, hosting two epic Redneck Roundup parties with cousin, Rob, that featured the now famous outlaw country band, the Longnecks. Joe received an undergraduate degree in Computer Science in 1994 and a MBA in 1997, both from the University of Kentucky. Joe's parents and his sisters also earned degrees from UK.

While an undergrad and after graduation, Joe spent 10 years as an IT Systems Administrator and Technical Account Manager for Lexmark and IBM Global Services. He spent much of 1998-99 with Lexmark in Sydney, Australia and Orleans, France. In 2000, he joined EMC as a technical sales engineer and became a member of Dell Technologies when EMC was acquired in 2016. Today Joe is a Senior Area Manager for Dell EMC, responsible for four sales districts and over $300 million in annual revenue across 14 states in the Ohio Valley, Midwest, and Great Plains.

When not busy helping customers address their technology and business challenges, he's actively pursuing a second career in craft beer and helping build the Beta Nu Alumni Association. He started homebrewing in the late 1990s and cultivated a dream of someday owning a brewery. Joe and pledge brother, Brian Masters, along with several friends founded Ivanhoe Park Brewing Company in Orlando, FL during the summer of 2017. IPBC opened in June 2018 and started distribution in November 2018, quickly capturing high profile accounts such as Sea World and the Amway Center (Orlando Magic). He plans to continue a role as IPBC Brand Ambassador while working on a business plan to open his own brewery in Central Kentucky and eventually retire from Dell Technologies to make craft beer his full-time focus.

A few years prior to starting the IPBC project, Joe reconnected with several other Beta Nu alumni to discuss growing concern for the chapter's housing situation and lack of structured alumni association. Since then, he has played an instrumental role in establishing recurring spring (Keeneland) and fall (HOF banquet/football tailgate) events in Lexington and driving fundraising efforts. In 2018, he established local summer events at minor league baseball parks in Louisville, Lexington, and Northern KY.

Joe currently resides in Goshen, KY with his two children, Caroline (12) and Philip (14). He enjoys hunting, fishing, hiking, kayaking, and scuba diving along with UK sports and travel.

When asked what Beta-Nu and Kappa Sigma mean to you, here is what Joe said: "Lifelong friends! Beta-Nu provided me so many benefits but the one I experience every day is lifelong friends that have become integrated into my circle of family and friends from other stages of life. And not just brothers from undergraduate. When I moved to Louisville in 2001, my cousin, Rob Bowling, and I started playing softball with other Beta-Nu alumni that were 10+ years younger than me. Over the past 5 years, the revitalized Beta-Nu alumni association has introduced me to dozens of brothers from other eras. Several of those brothers have become close friends."

Joe's advice to undergraduates is: "Leverage the broader Beta-Nu alumni network and stay involved after your time on campus. We have such a powerful network of brothers that, frankly, my era didn't leverage well. Whether for an internship, professional or personal mentoring, future employment, etc. start networking now. It will pay off dramatically over a lifetime."

Matthew Mauller '93

Matthew Mauller and his family live in Mitchell, Kentucky. He is married to Laura Sanker Mauller and they have three children: Lexi (13), Ali (10), and AJ (7). Mauller pledged in the fall of 1992 at Bowling Green State University and was initiated in the spring of 1993. During the fall of 1993, Mauller transferred to the University of Kentucky and affiliated himself with Beta-Nu Chapter. By the spring of 1994, he started the KE Hall of Fame where he also included past alumni. Mauller accomplished more than just starting the KE Hall of Fame during the year of 1994. He also infamously eliminated bottle breaking at parties. His reasoning for doing that was, "someone had to do it before we all ended up in the ER with gashes to our feet on the way to the shower" (Mauller). On top of that, he was also the formal chair for the First Ski Formal.

In the Spring of 1995, Mauller was elected Grand Master. As Grand Master, he held roles such as being the head of the fraternity, finalizing decisions, and dealing with external chapter relations. While he held this position, Mauller submitted their very first application to Nationals for award recognition. Although the application did not get accepted, Mauller demonstrated great leadership skills by being proactive. Later in the spring of 1995, Kappa Sigma received the KE Scholarship Leadership Award. Mauller attended the Biennial Conclave event in Virginia, where he went and discussed issues brought forward.

The following semester, Mauller continued to hold the Grand Master position where his position was put to the test. All four years, Mauller led Beta-Nu's disagreement with the Dean of students, surrounding the issue of the expulsion of their chapter due to allegations against hazing. During this semester, Beta-Nu became the university's example of "Zero Tolerance". They were then able to reduce their sentence down to 3 years and maintained their National Charter.

In the Spring of 1996, Mauller graduated with his degree in Biology and opened up his own insurance center in 1998. From the years 2002- 2016, Mauller was constantly promoted to higher positions. In 2002, he was promoted to Senior Marketing Representative. In 2004, he was promoted to Vice President Marketing/Partner. In 2008, Mauller transitioned an agency called, Neace Lukens Agency Cincinnati, where he was promoted to President 2016.

Beta-Nu Chapter & Kappa Sigma mean a great deal to Mauller. Beta-Nu Chapter & Kappa Sigma are the foundation for several of Matthew's longest friendships. He met some wonderful people and was given the opportunity at a young age to lead a group of peers. The friendships and experiences still benefit his life today. His advice to undergraduates is to put in work because something good will come out of it whether it be in Kappa Sigma or in life. You are only in school for a short time so invest it, run for EC, chair a committee or get involved with IFC or IMH. The experiences you gain and contacts you make will benefit you for life.

"The Star and Crescent shall not be worn by every man, but only by him who is worthy to wear it.

*He must be a gentleman...
a man of honor and courage...
a man of zeal, yet humble...
an intelligent man...
a man of truth...*

one who tempers action with wisdom and, above all else, one who walks in the light of God."
